The home page where the show is hosted:

Spreaker.com <https://www.spreaker.com/show/wellness-radio-with-dr-j> and it is also distributed on the Spreaker podcast player app.

The show is also shared on all my websites, blog postings, social media pages, and newsletter.

It is very important to note:

While Wellness Radio with Dr. J has been on air for 15 years, many of the hyperlinks that you share on your social media, website, or in writings MAY become broken. If you enjoyed the show, wish to use it as part of your marketing package, want to reference it to share with others, you need to use the mp3 that you were sent when the show went live. I do NOT hold any recordings past 15 days post publishing date. All web designers or media consultants you may be working with are well versed in these processes, ask for their support. Remember the copyright and tag, as necessary.

If you would like to know more about how to use the mp3 to market your mission, send me an email and I will share a few suggestions. The email for all requests: info@drjeanettegallagher.com and be sure to put a descriptive subject line.

Thank you for being my guest! I have enjoyed dancing in the world with the messages and words of inspiration and support we shared on air. Be well! If you have another written work and you wish to be my guest again, send me an email and we can discuss this option.

Loving thanks, Dr. Jeanette
